Thanksgiving Done Easy!

Thanksgiving is a wonderful holiday that reminds all of us to be grateful for what we have – something that we can easily forget in the hustle and bustle of our lives. However, for the family that is hosting the dinner, they can feel anything but grateful in the midst of the preparations. It doesn't have to be this way. If you take some simple steps, you can have a more enjoyable day of gratitude.

1. Make sure that you develop your food shopping list at least a week in advance. Then, if the space in your refrigerator and pantry will allow it, get the shopping done. That way, you are certain that you have everything you need well ahead of Thanksgiving.
2. Prepare foods and desserts ahead of time. Many items can be made a day or two in advance and either stored in the refrigerator or freezer. Some items that can be made ahead are: pies, cookies, sweet potatoes, cold appetizer trays, etc.

3. Double check who is attending so that you make enough food and have enough place settings.
4. Once you know who is attending, if possible, set your dining table. Not so far in advance that your plates become dusty, but a day or two in advance of the big day.
5. Once your table is set, place small notes inside each bowl or platter to indicate what food will be placed in each. Not only will this insure that you haven't forgotten a bowl for the potatoes, but it will also allow for others to help you on Thanksgiving with filling the proper bowls/platters with the correct items.
6. Set out name tags at each plate so there isn't any confusion when it's time to eat.
7. Allow your guests to help you. People will without a doubt offer their help. Let them. Whether it is bringing one of the side dishes, desserts, or beverages or helping to clean-up after the feast. Let go of the control and allow them to help.

Most importantly, don't forget to enjoy the day. You will spend days preparing and it will feel like it is over in a flash. Don't forget to enjoy those around you and be grateful for them, the food and the wonderful country we live in.
